

OUR ETFs AT-A-GLANCE

It's easy to say that our exchange-traded funds (ETFs) are smart. But how are they relevant? Our solutions are a careful balance of discipline and ingenuity. They follow the rules, but we make our own. That means you get the traditional benefits of an ETF — portfolio diversification, risk management, transparency, lower costs, tax advantages and trading flexibility — backed by the expertise of our active managers.

ETF shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemable. Investors buy and sell shares on a secondary market. Shares may trade at a premium or discount to the NAV. Only market makers or "authorized participants" may trade directly with the Fund(s), typically in blocks of 50,000 shares. Although the Fund's shares are listed on the Exchange, there can be no assurance that an active, liquid or otherwise orderly trading market for shares will be established or maintained.

There are risks involved with investing in ETFs including the loss of money. An investment in the fund is subject to investment risk including the possible loss of the entire principal amount that you invest. Emerging market investments involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuation in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, from economic or political instability in other nations or increased volatility and lower trading volume. Fixed income securities involve interest rate, credit, inflation, illiquidity and reinvestment risks. Although the fund's shares are listed on the exchange, there can be no assurance that an active, liquid or otherwise orderly trading market for shares will be established or maintained. These Funds may have portfolio turnover, which may cause an adverse cost impact.
