

ADVISOR PROGRAM PORTFOLIO CONSTRUCTION

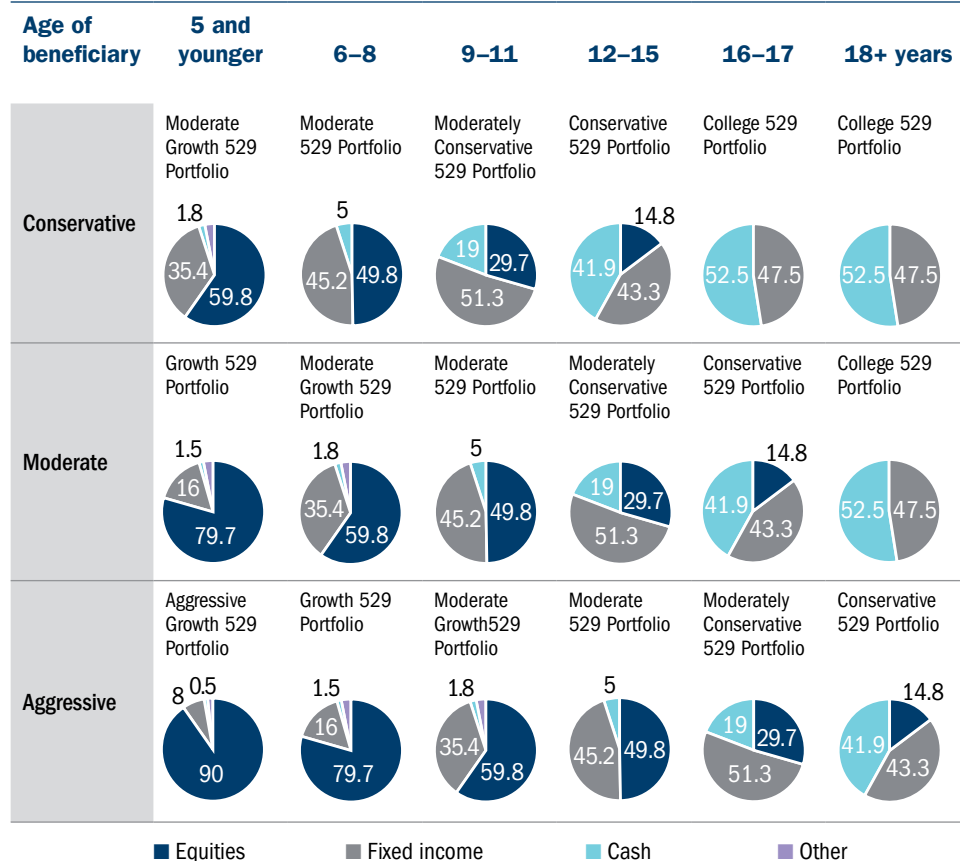

Age-based option

Your financial advisor can help you select an age-based target allocation track — Conservative, Moderate or Aggressive — that fits your college-planning needs. Your investments will be placed in a portfolio, based on your beneficiary's age and your personal risk tolerance.

As the beneficiary gets closer to college age, the portfolio will automatically reallocate into more conservative funds. This means that when it's time for college, a large proportion of your funds will be in more conservative, lower risk investments.

With a wide range of investment options, the Future Scholar 529 Plan allows you and your financial advisor to design a program to suit your college-saving needs. You can choose from three investment options, each with a variety of portfolios.

- Age-based option
- Single-fund option
- Target-allocation option

The principal value of the portfolio(s) is not guaranteed at any time.

Target-allocation option

You can also choose among seven target-allocation portfolios, ranging from aggressive to more conservative, to best suit your investment needs. Unlike the age-based portfolios that shift over time, your investment in a target-allocation portfolio will remain constant unless you decide to change it.

The percentage allocations shown are target allocations as of December 2015. These target allocations and the actual percentage allocations to each underlying fund and asset class are subject to change at any time. In addition, the underlying funds included in the Asset Allocation Portfolios may change. For the target allocation ranges to individual asset classes, please see the Program Description.

Note: For complete information on asset allocation ranges, permissible investment strategies and special risks that may be associated with the underlying mutual funds, please see the Program Description.

Although money contributed to the accounts will be invested in portfolios that hold mutual funds (among other types of investments), none of the Trust, the Advisor Plan or any of the Advisor Plan's investment portfolios is a mutual fund, and an investment in the Program is not an investment in shares of any mutual fund. See the Program Description for more information about the securities issued through the Program.

Asset allocation does not assure a profit or protect against loss.

Investment risks

The section below summarizes some of the risks involved with investing in the program portfolios and is not intended to be a complete list of the investment risks. For a complete list of investment risks, please see the Program Description. An investment in these portfolios may offer the potential for long-term growth but also involves certain risks.

Equity securities are subject to stock market fluctuations that occur in response to economic and business developments.

Stocks of small- and mid-cap companies pose special risks, including possible liquidity and greater price volatility than stocks of larger, more established companies.

International investing involves special risks, including foreign taxation, currency risks, risks associated with possible differences in financial standards and other risks associated with future political and economic developments.

Investing in fixed-income securities may involve certain risks, including the credit quality of individual issuers, possible prepayments, market or economic developments, and yields and share price fluctuations due to changes in interest rates.

Investments in high-yield bonds (sometimes referred to as "junk bonds") offer the potential for high current income and attractive total return but involve certain risks. Changes in economic conditions or other circumstances may adversely affect a junk bond issuer's ability to make principal and interest payments.

There are special risks associated with an investment in real estate, including credit risk, interest rate fluctuations and the impact of varied economic conditions.

The ETF shares made available through the plan are listed for trading on an exchange and can be bought and sold on the secondary market at market prices. Although it is expected that the market price of an ETF share typically will approximate its net asset value (NAV), there may be times when the market price and the NAV vary significantly. Thus, the plan may pay more or less than NAV when it buys ETF shares on the secondary market and may receive more or less than NAV when it sells those shares.

Please consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing in the Future Scholar 529 Plan. Contact your financial advisor or visit columbiathreadneedle.com/us for a Program Description, which contains this and other important information. Read it carefully before investing. You should also consider, before investing, whether the investor's or designated beneficiary's home state offers any state tax or other benefits that are only available for investments in such state's qualified tuition program.

The Advisor Plan is sold exclusively through financial advisors, while the Direct Plan is sold directly by the Program. Participation in the Direct Plan is limited to eligible investors, as described in the Program Description. The Direct Plan offers a more limited selection of investment choices than the Advisor Plan, and the fees and expenses are lower. Please refer to the Program Description for more information.
